REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

John E. Ewing Middle School continued to focus on improvement in academic achievement, attendance, and behavior in 2008-2009. Students were challenged to come to school every day, do all their homework, maintain good behavior, and make good grades on their report cards. If they did these things, they earned pretend money, called "Ewing Eagle Bucks," each week. As a way to motivate students, they were allowed to use the "Eagle Bucks" to purchase fun and interesting items. Single gender classes were offered to students in each grade to promote improvement in achievement and behavior. A Reading Interventionist provided assistance to a targeted group of students. The Guidance Department provided character education instruction in all grades. Students from the Cherokee Technology Center came to John E. Ewing Middle School to give our students hands-on experience with the sixteen different career clusters. Our eighth graders visited local college campuses to promote higher education awareness. Many students took advantage of after-school attendance make-up which was frequently offered. Students who maintained good behavior throughout the school year were given the opportunity to travel to historical Charleston, S.C. and to the state Beta Club Convention.

The Parent Teacher Organization/School Improvement Council played a key role by helping us offer student incentives and after school activities, such as talent shows and student dances.

Teachers continued to use data to plan instruction and assessment. More of them achieved the Highly Qualified status in middle level subjects. John E. Ewing Middle School has high expectations for continued improvement in the areas of student achievement, attendance, and behavior.
